Washington Manager Comes for Some Post-Christmas Baseball Bargains, but Gets No Encouragement in His Search

Janvrin or Barry-Ridicules Johnson Trade Story.

By FREDERICK G. LIEB.

Clark Griffith, manager and part owner of the Washington club, was in New York venterday to see if he could pick up any after Christmas bargains. Having heard that Miller (Huggins recently separated Harry Frazes from three star players for what some persons are unkind enough to call "a lot of junk," Griffith dropped in at the Red Sox owner's local offices yesterday to Sox owner's local offices yesterday to Sox owner's local offices yesterday to

Wheat Batting Champion DEMPSEY DOWNS QUEST OF PLAYERS of National League for 1918

Sees Frazee About Getting 7 ACK WHEAT, outfielder of the Brooklyn club, is batting champion of the "Gunboat" Is Knocked Out in Staten Island Star Scores National League for 1918, according to the official averages announced yesterday. Wheat hit .335 in 105 games, only 2 points better than did Eddle Roush of the Cincinnati club, batting champion of 1917. Wheat's title is not clear. Billy Southworth, who joined the Pittsburg club in June, hit .341 in 64 games. This was more than half of the games played by his club. Wheat batted safely in 26 consecutive games, starting July 11 and end-with a batting average of .444.

Batsmen making 5 base hits in 5 times at bat during the season were Lee Magee. Cincinnatt, April 17; J. Rawlings, Boston, May 7; Max Carey, Pittsburg.

Cravath, Philadelphia, had a home runs; he also leads all in extra bases made on long hits with a total of 61. In team aggregates, Chicago and Cincinnati tie in runs scored, with 538 each. Cincinnati made the most single hits, 921; most two base hits, 165, and most three base hits, 84. St. Louis, the tailender, had the most home runs, 27. Pittaburg leads in stolen bases, 200, and in sacrifice hits, 190. Chicago and St. Louis, the champions and the tailenders, each played 131 games. Cincinnati leads the league with 378 extra bases scored on long hits.

The fact that Smith had once received the decision over Williard in a twenty round bout, led many of the enthusiasts of this city to believe that he had a chance against the thumper to had a chance against the thumper Roberts was stymied for the second time to play.

Both played good, steady golf going out, and although Walker was one up at the turn, he owed his advantage to a dead stymie which cost Capt. Roberts a half on the ninth. Coming in Capt. Roberts was stymied for the second time to play.

SMITH IN SECOND GOLF AT PINEHURST

Easily Over Capt. Roberts in First Match Round.

Special Despatch to THE SEX

PINEHURST, N. C., Dec. 39.—Prophets were proved wrong in several instances in the first match round of the midwintwenty round bout, led many of the enthusiasts of this city to believe that he had a chance against the thumper from Utah, but this was dispelled in the first round.

In the first round Dempsey dropped Smith six times, and three times in the second round, the last count running over the ten second limit.

The first punch that Dempsey gothome solidly apparently did the business. It came after Jack had spent a minute boring in with great show of speed and determination. Crowding in a short left joil to the jaw. Smith went down for the first count.

He was dazed when he arone and covered, but Jack threw him off and covered, but Jack threw him off and covered, but Jack threw him off and covered, but Jack threw him down again.

ACH Hot Stove League season develops its particular baseball diver-sion. The singular product this winter is the "self determination" effort of some of the star players who mean us to believe that they take seriously the "unconditional releases" handed them last September. They want us to think that they really believe they are free agents. In the last week Ty Cobb, Duffy Lewis and Ernie Shore have come forward with the statement that they regard themselves as being attached to no club in par- to stamp out dishonest tactics, the stewticular, and that they hold themselves free to deal with anybody in Organized ards in charge of the Jefferson Park Baseball. The instruction is that they will not sign unless given a bonus, racing have continued their probe into and they will work only under terms they can dictate.

More power to the players if they can get fancy contracts, but won't they please stop informing folks that they are free agents? The players intents and purposes they may be as free as the air, but what good is their freedom going to do them since they intend to continue playing baseball?

Cobb, Lewis and Shore know mights well that they are nothing of the sort. It provides that no person who has freedom going to do them since they intend to continue playing baseball? Cobb, Lewis and Shore know mighty well that they will play only with the clubs which hold them under reserve, and that the "unconditional releases"

Rumor, which connected certain horseclubs which hold them under reserve, and that the "unconditional releases they got last season were only legal safeguards taken by the club owners to men and jockeys with certain well known avert claims for salary for the full season as originally scheduled. play with Detroit in 1919 or play with nobody in Organized Baseball.

If we thought the players were sincere in their statements about being free agents the proposition would assume an entirely different complexion. But the fact remains that the players know their real status as well as the club owners know it. Cobb, Lewis and the others mean to use the "unconditional release" as a clock for salary increase demands. In view of the fact that baseball is emerging from a period of financial stress it behoves the players to stand pat for a season and make their demands next winter, when the club treasuries are a little fatter from the big revival of interest which is bound to come next summer.
